

DANIEL BROOK

SPEAKING ABOUT HIS NEW BOOK

A HISTORY OF FUTURE CITIES

5:30PM THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12

PROCOPIO ROOM, 105 HILLS NORTH

Sponsored by:

Architecture + Design

Landscape Architecture and Regional Planning

Economic History and Development Workshop

World Studies
Interdisciplinary Program

at the University of Massachusetts Amherst

For more information, please contact Max Page at mpage@umass.edu or visit umass.edu/architecture.

Daniel Brook is a journalist whose work has appeared in publications including Harper's, The Nation, and Slate, and the author of The Trap: Selling Out to Stay Afloat in Winner-Take-All America.

His architecture writing won the 2010 Winterhouse Award for Design Writing and Criticism. To research A History of Future Cities, Brook lived for a month each in St. Petersburg, Shanghai, Mumbai, and Dubai and conducted archival research on a semester-long fellowship at the Library of Congress. Originally from New York and educated at Yale University, Brook lives in New Orleans.